Tenth annual Tulsa TechFest 2015 – 10

Details on Tulsa's tenth annual Tulsa TechFest were announced today by local volunteer organizers. The technology and business community will unite for the event at OSU-Tulsa's downtown campus on Friday, August 7th.

The one day technology conference is one of the largest IT conferences in the region. Its focus is to educate attendees about IT process and management improvement, software development products and trends, project management, information security, database management and performance, and personal and professional development. This year Tulsa TechFest is adding to the lineup Windows 10, DevOps, Game Dev/Design along with the usual topics: Cloud, Mobile, Agile, Project Management, Knowledge Management, ISSA – Security, Social Media, End Users, Entrepreneurs and Mentoring sessions.

“We are building on the success over the past ten years by broadening our coverage to include even more general public interest and topics, such as Windows 10. Come to learn more about Windows 10, see it in use and demos of some of the new devices, while still delivering to our core IT professionals in the corporate ecosystem,” said Tulsa TechFest Chairman, David Walker. “This isn't your typical conference as attendees will hear from the nation's top industry executives with real-world experiences. We have had attendees from as far away as Connecticut and even Brazil.” Over 60 speakers will present including former Tulsan, Caleb Jenkins, Senior Manager, Avaya, Michael Morehead, Technology Strategist, Microsoft, Shawn Weisfeld, Technology Evangelist, Microsoft, Bill Fellows, Microsoft SQL Server MVP, BI Lead, OpportuneTech, Chander Dhall, Microsoft MVP, Chief Technology Officer, Chander Dhall, Inc., David Walker, Sitecore Practice Director, TechAspect, Eric Shupps, Microsoft SharePoint MVP,

Founder / President, Binary Wave, Jeff Bramwell, Microsoft Visual Studio ALM MVP, Director of Enterprise Architecture, Farm Credit Services of America, Lee Brandt, Microsoft MVP – Visual C#, Director of R&D, PaigeLabs, Raymond Lewallen, Chief Engineer, Telogical Systems, Anand Raja, Director Presales – Dev Tools, Infragistics, Brian Sullivan, Microsoft ASP.NET MVP, Principal Consultant, Improving Enterprises, Dennis Bottjer, Solutions Architect, ThriveFast LLC, Dustin Curzon, Executive Director, 36degreesNorth, Gil Rice, Senior Manager of Technical Services, New Relic and many more.

Tulsa TechFest 2015 sponsors include 36 degrees North, Gable Gotwals Counsel, New Relic, Infragistics, OakTree IT Staffing & Training, Firefox Developer Edition, Dynatrace, Aspose, Interworks, Robert Half and numerous prize sponsors.

Tulsa TechFest welcomes all who want to learn more about the most recent technology advancements. The conference is from 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Prize drawings will be held at the end of day in software, books and more – there has been consistently prizes totaling $70,000 - $100,000.
